

Landscape Design

Bailey & Harris welcomes collaboration and we encourage the involvement of a Landscape architect or Landscape designer from the inception of the project. We are happy to recommend firms we have partnered with in the past to assure a seamless design inside and out and can extend our services to over oversight so the design project reflects a consistent vision carried through from exterior to interior.

Now more than ever, projects blur the distinction between indoors and out. Views out of the home into the landscape are equally as important as those from room to room. The circulation and flow from inside the home to terraces, porches, patios and gardens landscape as well as careful placement and plant selection can enhance or harm a design.

By working with the owner to carefully select outdoor furnishings, paving materials, natural stone and other hardscape elements, we can extend the home into the landscape.

Typically an Architects scope of service does not include the landscape design but now more than ever it is important to consider how the project shapes the site and how the site shapes the project. Consideration of screening, site walls, circulation, driveways, garden beds, grading and drainage can all enhance the end result when integrated from the beginning.

When Bailey & Harris performs enhanced construction documents services, we can offer consulting services to include:

Outdoor Kitchens

Outdoor Rooms

Screen porches, 3 season porches, covered patios

Outdoor fireplaces, BBQ's and firepits.

Pergolas

Seat walls/ site walls, retaining walls

Lattice structures, arbors, fences, gazebos, landscape follies,

Pool layout and deck placement

Water gardens & fountain features

Gateways, Archways

We believe that What is Outside is as important as what is inside.
